

Travel Information

The Weihai Campus of Shandong University is located adjacent to the shore of the Yellow Sea in the northern district of a scenic coastal city Weihai.

Weihai is a small charming and clean coastal city, located at the eastern tip of Shandong Peninsula, surrounded by sea on three sides. Weihai is famous for various bays and islands, clean and hygienic environment, as well as pleasant climate, e.g., the average high and low temperature are 26 °C and 18 °C in June. It was awarded “one of 100 paradigm cities in improving the human living environment” by the United Nations.

There are two airports near the university:

- Weihai Airport (WEH) is 53 km from the university (~ 60 minute drive).
- Yantai Airport (YNT) is 110 km from the university (~ 80-90 minute drive).

Both airports have regular direct flights from Beijing, Shanghai and Seoul, etc. However, if possible, Weihai Airport is recommended since it is cheaper and more convenient to get to the university by public transport.

- Weihai Airport (WEH) is 53 km from the university (~ 60 minute drive, ~ 150 CNY for taxi, which is negotiable). You can take an airport shuttle bus to the “山大南门: main entrance to the Shandong University” drop-off station, which costs 20 CNY/person. Tickets can be purchased on the bus. After you get off the bus, you can find Haiyue Jianguo Hotel easily.
- Yantai Airport (YNT) is 110 km from the university (~ 90 minute drive, ~ 450 CNY for taxi, which is negotiable). You can take the airport shuttle bus to the “山大宿舍: ShanDa SuShe” drop-off station, which costs 80 CNY/person. Then please take a taxi to go directly to your hotel. The distance from ShanDa SuShe to Haiyue Jianguo Hotel is about 1.1 km.

There are two railway stations close to the university:

- Weihai Railway Station (~18 km from the university): You can take the No. 12 bus from the station to Shandong university Weihai campus directly and then walk to your hotel and conference venue. It will cost about 40 CNY if select taxi from the railway station to the hotels listed above.
- Weihai North Railway Station (~5 km from the university): You can take the No. K2 bus from the north station to Shandong university Weihai campus, and then walk to your hotel and conference venue. It will cost about 13 CNY if select taxi from the north station to your hotel and conference venue.
